WHO WE ARE

Rev Javier (Jay) Alanis, Ph.D.
Executive Director

LSPS is a program of theological education that offers an inter-cultural perspective through the TEEM program. It was established in 1975 by Wartburg Theological Seminary in Dubuque, Iowa who partnered with the Lutheran School of Theology in Chicago in 1988.

LSPS has:

- ◆ Graduated over 140 M. Div. candidates
- ◆ Served 180 M. Div. students for part of their theological training
- ◆ Alumni serving in 25 states and four countries (USA, Mexico, Chile and Sierra Leon)
- ◆ graduated 19 TEEM (Theological Education for Emerging Ministries) students who are serving in seven states.
- ◆ Alumni from the USA, Colombia, Guatemala, Argentina, El Salvador, Puerto Rico, México, Chile, Nicaragua, The Philippines, Indonesia, Korea and Taiwan.
- ◆ the only two Ph.D. Latinos of Mexican heritage in the ELCA.
- ◆ The talent and experience of theologians from across the country as adjunct faculty.
- ◆ a donor support base of 5,000 individuals and 240 congregations in 21 states.
- ◆ Continuing education opportunities in Austin and at Holden Village.

We invite you to consider LSPS for your theological formation and training. Please visit us at our website or call us.
