

The Ministry of Mission Interpreters Is Important

“As a Mission Interpreter for more than twenty years in the ELCA, I have discovered how God is at work around the world. Through personal experiences and stories of those who have "been there", I have learned how my gifts of time, talent and resources are used to inform, teach, inspire and assist others. I began this journey in my 20's by committing to one hour of God's work each day. On this journey I have met many faithful people who have enriched and shaped my journey of word and service. This ministry is truly a door to deepening my relationship with Jesus and engaging ventures yet unknown.”

Keith A. Mundy
ELCA Program Director Stewardship

“Learning about all the marvelous ministries of the ELCA has enriched my life & my faith. I experience God's amazing grace every time I visit a congregation & share the stories of God's mission to love and bless the world. You and I, by sharing our gifts of time, talent & treasure, are making Christ known in our communities and throughout the world.”

What Do Mission Interpreters Do?

- Go to congregations to tell the story of how offerings and gifts are transformed into effective ministries.
- Remind folks of how together we make a difference for Christ's mission and the work of the church.
- Thank people for their faithful giving.

How Is This Accomplished?

- By temple talks
- By visits with councils and committees
- By sharing information
- By providing resources
- By giving guidance on doing God's work at congregational, synodical, and churchwide levels
- By developing connections between the ELCA membership and its leadership and mission.

What Are the Qualifications?

- Be faith-filled, loving Christ and Church
- Be a faithful steward
- Be an active member of a congregation
- Be willing to attend educational workshops
- Be willing to tell the stories of how God's Work is being done with Our Hands

Congregations Benefit from Mission Interpreters

- "Mission minded" congregations are growing in membership and spirit!
- The Mission Interpreter Ministry helps congregations by increasing the understanding of the work and ministry of the ELCA beyond the congregation.
- By looking beyond the congregation, members see how they are personally connected to mission and ministry around the world!
- When members understand their identity as partners in a wider church, they become strong advocates supporting the mission and ministry of Christ's church beyond congregations, through the synod and through the church-wide organization.

Mission Interpreters Receive:

- Educational opportunities
- Resource Materials
- Coaching
- Inspiration
- Networking
- Opportunities to share ideas

Mission Interpreters Are Willing To:

- Present at least one talk per quarter. This presentation may be in the form of a temple talk, Sunday School lesson, address to church council, etc. Decide which method works best for you and your congregation.
- Communicate with and Serve the congregation monthly via newsletter, bulletin board, Temple Talk, or other means. Make it as simple or elaborate as desired.
- Attend one educational opportunity as offered. These gatherings enable attendees to share ideas and experiences and to learn new ways to share stories, and thus celebrate the message of hope in Jesus Christ.
- Commit to the Mission Interpreter program for at least two years.

Mission Interpreters interpret the ministries of Christ's Church through the ELCA. They are not fundraisers.
